YEAR'S WORK NEARS CLOSE

LOCAL SCHOOLS CLOSE FRIDAY

Interesting Events Planned for Enjoyment and Instruction of the Public at the School House

School work for the current year is nearing the end, the session formally closing next Friday, June 27. There will be a brief graduating program and an interesting exhibit which will doubtless prove a strong attraction. The afternoon program will be as follows:

1:30-2:30, exercises Primary Department.

2:30-3:00, exercises Grammar Department.

3:00-3:30, exhibit of Grammar Department.

3:30-4:00, exhibit of Primary Department.

4:00-4:30, garden exhibit and inspection of playground apparatus.

The graduating class of 1913 consists of eleven pupils. All of them have already enrolled for work next year at the Pasadena high school, being the first class to begin their high school work in the new Polytechnic High School buildings. The names of those completing the course are as follows:

Margaret Bravinder, Nelson Brooks, Starr Gottfried, Dora Jansen, Hall Perry, Lloyd Ray, Douglass Saunders, Helen Seeley, William Seeley, Donald Tarr, Lucile Whitworth.

Exhibits of Work

Past exhibits of the work of the school children have been exceedingly interesting and the one to be held next Friday is expected to be the best yet held. The work of the classes in sloyd and sewing will be shown, as well as the drawing and written work. Anyone who thinks these exhibits can not be interesting has much to learn, as they invariably draw out expressions of pleased surprise from those who view them for the first time.

In addition to the indoor work the school garden will be one of the interesting features. The work of the present year has been most successful, being the first season that the classes have had the use of the garden plot since it was fenced in and prepared for use. The showing is highly creditable for the young gardeners. Opportunity will also be given for inspection of the new playground apparatus which has been installed during the present year.

Teaching Force Chosen

The teaching force has just been selected for the coming year by the board of trustees. Prof. R. W. Maltbie will remain as superintendent and instructor of the seventh and eighth grades. He will also conduct the classes in manual training.

Miss Barris who has been elected to an excellent position in the Los Angeles schools, will be succeeded in the sixth and seventh grade work by Miss Carson. The latter was a member of the spring graduating class of the state normal school in Los Angeles. Her scholarship standing was very high and she was president of the graduating class.

Miss Goudy who has been filling the place of Miss Rosenthal since the latter was obliged to give up work on account of eye trouble has been elected to the fifth grade for next year.

Miss Mintner will be succeeded in the third and fourth grade work by Miss Griffin. Miss Thompson will remain in charge of the primary department. The plan of having each teacher handle a special line of work in all the grades will be followed next year as in the past.

CHOICE MUSICAL PROGRAM

A recital of sacred music will be given at the Church of the Ascension Wednesday evening, May 25th at 8 o'clock. The program offered will include arias from the greater oratorios and sacred solos by the well known basso Delmore Cheney, selections by the following quartette: Mrs. Hawxhurst, Miss Humphries, Mrs. Day and Mrs. Timm and numbers for the organ. Mr. Cheney's fine voice and artistic attainments have won for him an enviable position as a concert and oratorio soloist, and the music lovers of this city should not overlook this opportunity of hearing him. An offering will be taken up to cover the expense and no admission fee will be charged.

HOME OF TRUTH

"The Mantle of Love" is the subject of the discourse to be given next Sunday at 3:30 at the Home of Truth, 493 Auburn Avenue. Text, John 3:16, 17, "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son . . . that the world through him might be saved." Services conducted by Harriet C. Hammon. All are cordially invited. Sunday school is held at two o'clock.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Church of the Ascension, the Rev. Dr. Geo. H. Cornell, rector. Vested choir. Fifth Sunday after Trinity. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon, 11 a. m. All are cordially invited.

DIES IN WASHINGTON

MRS. A. L. CASKEY PASSES AWAY UNEXPECTEDLY WHILE VISITING IN THE NORTH

Mrs. A. L. Caskey of Sierra Madre passed away Monday evening at Sunnyside, Washington, according to telegraphic information received on Tuesday by her children, Greer Caskey, Mrs. R. J. Lord and Mrs. W. L. Gilliland. The news came as a severe shock to her family as well as to everyone else who knew her. She had gone to Washington but a few weeks ago to remain for a time with her daughter, Mrs. Rufus Meyer, and since that time her health had apparently been improving somewhat. And while she was exceedingly frail there was no apparent reason to think that her life hung by such a slender thread. The telegram telling of her passing contained no further information except that she would be laid to rest there at her own request. That the end came as the result of a sudden turn for the worse seems probable in view of the fact that a letter was received from Mrs. Caskey herself on the day the telegram arrived. Mrs. Caskey had been a resident of Sierra Madre for many years, her husband preceding her to the other life last December. She enjoyed the love and respect of all her acquaintances to a remarkable degree and will be sadly missed by friends as well as family.

RESERVE LAND OPEN

LANDS ON DESERT SIDE OF ANGELES RESERVE MADE AVAILABLE FOR PRIVATE ENTRY

A proclamation signed by the President on May 27 cuts approximately 100,000 acres from the Angeles National Forest of Southern California.

The area was recommended for elimination by the Forest Service, after a careful examination of the ground. The land is located on the north side of the forest, in Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties. The altitude varies from 2,900 to 7,000 feet. At the higher elevation the country is steep and rough, but farther down slopes in gently rolling hills and bench lands to the Mojave Desert.

The Angeles Forest is chiefly valuable for watershed protection to the south and west, but the lands eliminated are on the other side of the range and therefore of no value in this respect, according to the report of the Forest Service. A considerable portion of the tract consists of fairly level ground. The soil is a good sandy loam. It is the opinion of the examiners that it has only a small value for forest purposes. A number of homesteaders have already applied for land under the Forest Homestead Act of June 11, 1906. About 14 per cent of the tract is already in private hands and the proportion of listed land, the Forest officers say, is being added to almost daily.

THE WISDOM OF EPICTETUS.

When you make any charge against providence, consider, and you will learn that the thing has happened according to reason. Yes, but the unjust man has the advantage. In what? In money. Yes, for he is superior to you in this that he falters not, is free from shame and is watchful. What is the wonder? But see if he has the advantage over you in being faithful, in being modest, for you will not find it to be so, but wherein you are superior there you will find that you have the advantage.

If a man has frequent intercourse with others, either for talk or drinking together or generally social purposes, he must either become like them or change them to his own fashion. For, if a man places a piece of quenched charcoal close to a piece that is burning, either the quenched charcoal will quench the other or the burning charcoal will light that which is quenched. Since then the danger is so great we must cautiously enter into such intimacies with those of the common sort and remember that it is impossible that a man can keep company with one who is covered with soot without being partaker of the soot himself.

One man must keep watch, another must go out as a spy, and a third must fight, and it is not possible that all should be in one place, nor is it better that it should be so. But you, neglecting to do the commands of the general, complain when anything more hard than usual is imposed on you, and you do not deserve what you make the army become as far as it is in your power. If all imitate you no man will dig a trench, no man will put a rampart round nor keep watch nor expose himself to danger, but will appear to be useless for the purpose of an army.

Tree and Hedge Planting In Streets and Gardens

(From Pasadena Daily News)

Many there are who sing the praises of the California pepper both for yard and street planting purposes. It is probably the most graceful of the trees of this section of the United States and it always presents a fresh appearance, at times of the year strikingly beautiful in appearance with the contrasts of its red berries and its delicate green foliage. The pepper has been condemned for street planting by some because of the fact that it uproots the sidewalk which it borders. Authorities would by no means discontinue the use of the tree on this account, however, but would try to remedy the defect. Wider parking should be given the tree than it has been given in the past. Then it should be planted differently. It should be sunk into the earth in the receptacle in which it comes from the nursery, after first, however, having a good-sized hole cut in the bottom of the receptacle. The earth under the receptacle should be soft for a considerable distance. These conditions obtaining, the root of the growing tree will proceed in a downward direction through the opening in the bottom of the receptacle into the soft dirt. Surface rooting will be made difficult. Particularly while the tree is young, water when supplied should be supplied in large quantities so that it will sink deep into the earth and reach the lowermost roots. Scant watering of course will result in shallow rooting.

According to local horticulturists, the pepper is not a tree of slow growth, but increases in size fully as fast as that other favorite of California planting—the palm in all its varieties. The more common variety of palm, by the way, should be introduced with discretion into the lawn in front of the house. It has no place in a small front yard, as when it achieves any size it obscures the view from the house. The palm is too harsh in outline to be attractive save from a distance. Seen in the proper perspective, it commands itself because of a certain stateliness it possesses, and that to some gardeners, at least, is almost its sole virtue.

Better Watering Method

While it is generally known to be a bad plan to water flowers and shrubs in the height of the day, the public generally does not know that sprinkling at any time of the day is taboo among progressive gardeners. The down-to-date floriculturist and horticulturist are "going Nature one better" these days. They no longer imitate her softly falling rain drops. Instead, they irrigate—they dig a trench near the roots of the plant, run the water in, and then after the water has sunk into the bottom of the trench, fill the depression up with the dry fine top soil. This method holds the moisture longer than the old method of sprinkling, as it results in a loose, porous top soil whereas sprinkling results in a hard-baked surface covering that cracks and permits the dirt underneath to dry out rapidly. The best-known chrysanthemums in Pasadena are irrigated and not sprinkled and this statement applies to all other varieties of locally raised flowers.

Concerning the Hedge

That type of hedge generally known as "The Evergreen" is probably most popular among the well-to-do residents of Pasadena. It requires rather close attention to be kept appearing at its best, as it should be clipped often enough to prevent its losing its original terseness, of line. The big point in its favor, of course, is that it always presents an attractive appearance, while the average flowering hedge is not at its best many months of the year. With the English gardeners, popular hedges are the Privet hedge, the St. Helena hedge and the Golden Feather hedge. Most of the local gardeners prefer the always green shrubbery to the flowering plants as hedges.

Unquestionably one of the most spectacularly beautiful hedges in season in California is the Cherokee rose hedge. It is common in the white and pink variety of flower and from a new one will be possible in the red, as the Red Cherokee, a new creation, has this year put in its appearance at the local nurseries. The great objection to the rose as a hedge bordering the sidewalk is that it has to be cut so close in order to keep the briars from catching and tearing the clothing of passers-by that the number of its blossoms is greatly reduced and the full glory of the hedge is therefore not realized.

NEW STORE MANAGEMENT

Mrs. Katherine K. Brown has taken over the sole ownership and control of the Brown Grocery store and will conduct the business in the future. Active management of the business will devolve upon F. W. Erdman who has been employed in the store for a long time.

S. R. Twycross leaves Saturday for Cedar Grove, Maine, where he will visit his mother who is in her ninetieth year. During his absence Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Clough of Ocean Park will reside with Mrs. Twycross. Mr. Clough attending to the business affairs of Mr. Twycross.

NEWS LINERS DID IT

PROOF OF WHAT A FEW LINES IN THE NEWS WILL DO FOR THE ADVERTISER

Perhaps you have read that "News liners pay" before this. It has been said often in these columns, with a view to impressing it on people's minds. There is ample evidence that the statement is true, the latest instance being a letter received this week as follows:

Sierra Madre, June 16, 1913.
Mr. Geo. B. Morgridge,
The Sierra Madre News.

Dear Sir:
Allow me to speak a good word for the News "Liners." Your last issue could hardly have been distributed before I had sold the article that I advertised and in the next twenty-four hours I could have sold just four more if I had been able to supply the demand. Verily—it pays!

Gratefully yours,

ALLAN L. SYMONDS.

Recently a lady advertised a stove for sale. By the time she had received her own copy of the News from the postoffice she began to receive telephone inquiries regarding the stove, selling it almost immediately. During the week it was decided to sell another stove and the ad was ordered to be repeated. But before the next issue of the News the second stove was sold to an inquirer who answered the first ad, so the publisher refunded the money which had been paid for the second insertion.

Lots of knives have been lost in Sierra Madre recently, judging by the number of inquiries regarding a knife which was advertised as found. The knife was left at the News office by a lady who picked it up on the street and while this ad did not succeed in the intended result it proved that a great many people read the News liner column. The knife is still at the News office awaiting identification.

CONGREGATIONAL SERVICES

In his talk to the children Sunday morning at the Congregational Church, the pastor, Rev. W. H. Hanaford, will tell "a story of an oak tree." The morning sermon will be upon the theme, "A Man Worth Considering." In the evening the sermon will consider "Our Part in Being Made Whole."

While some are about going away for the summer there are others coming to the city in order to be near the mountains, so there are enough to keep the church full at every service if all make it a point to attend as regularly as possible. Strangers are always cordially welcomed.

The Eleven and One Club were charmingly entertained this week on Tuesday evening at the home of the Misses Hilda and Maybelle Caley. The evening was spent with needlework and dainty refreshments were served.

MASONS HAVE FULL HOUSE

VISITORS FILL OFFICES OF LODGE

Pasadena and Alhambra Masons Are Guests at Initiation and Banquet

Members of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. & A. M., entertained visitors from Pasadena and Alhambra on Tuesday evening when the degree of Master Mason was conferred upon Earl S. Mollenkopf, the ceremonies in the lodge room being followed by a banquet served in the auditorium of the club house. About 125 men sat down to the feast and enjoyed the program of toasts which followed.

The lodge was opened by the officers of Sierra Madre lodge, Junior Warden H. E. C. Webb being seated in the East in the absence of J. A. Patterson who was kept at home by illness. The degree work was carried out by teams from Pasadena and Corona lodges, Masters Nay and Viney presiding during the different sections. The work was made most impressive and was viewed with interest by the local brethren.

District Inspector L. L. Test of Pasadena officiated most acceptably as toastmaster at the banquet. Highly enjoyable speeches were made by Brothers Nay, Viney and Hall, the latter being the "father" of Alhambra lodge, as well as by some of the local brethren.

The banquet was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star chapter and was delightful both to the eye and the palate. The committee in charge of this feature of the evening's entertainment was composed of Misses Walker, Cozeman and Stevens representing the chapter, and Messrs. Webb, Spafford and Stevens, representing the lodge.

STOPS METER CHARGE

RAILROAD COMMISSION RULES WATER COMPANIES MUST PAY FOR METERS

The railroad commission has rendered a decision in which it reiterates and establishes as a principle the rule that water companies must themselves bear the expense of service connections and of meters, and shall not impose these obligations upon their patrons. The commission decides that water companies are entitled to rates which shall yield them an adequate return upon their investment, but that they shall not require their customers to provide a portion of that investment represented by service connections and meters.

The commission has at different times expressed this principle in its decisions, but in a ruling just rendered it sets down the principle in definite form as a guide to the water companies of the state. The ruling was made in two complaints which were consolidated for hearing. These were the complaints of the city of Glendale against the Title Guarantee & Trust Company, trustee for the Glendale Consolidated Water Company, and the City of Glendale vs. the Miradero Water Company.

The commission reviews the decisions of the supreme court of the United States and other bodies upon the points involved and concludes finally that the service connections and meters are part of the water system which must be built by the companies themselves.

The plea of the water companies that they possessed insufficient revenues to make the service connections and to install the meters was dismissed by the commission with the statement that they were entitled to fair rates upon their property and if they were not now securing fair rates, their remedy lay in an application to the proper authority for such rates as would provide a reasonable return upon their investment.

Although this ruling is said not to apply to co-operative companies, like the Sierra Madre company, and municipal plants are exempted, the cost of meters in Sierra Madre has been borne by the company except where extra large meters were desired.

IMMIGRANT DISTRIBUTION.

The real problem which confronts us is not restriction of immigration, but the distribution of the immigrants. America has not yet been discovered by most Americans. Millions have never penetrated beyond the Atlantic seaboard. What we need are more people who have the ready and venturesome spirit of the pioneer. Instead of a helter-skelter, haphazard migration of the nations let us have a carefully directed distribution of the people to the place of self support and independence, and we shall have less need of sustaining charities for those who become helpless and jails for those who become worthless in the present scramble. Henry Berkowitz.

MORE than two hundred authors, many of them of national repute and all widely known, took part in a contest recently held by the Volland Publishing Co., submitting sentiments for a series of "Personal Message Post Cards." This prize winning series of twenty-four cards has been received and is now on display.

Nothing more beautiful in design and sentiment has ever been created in post card form—the designs being in keeping with the sentiments and reproduced by a new printing process. The series includes both friendly greetings and birthday messages. All have the personal touch which has caused several persons to remark:

"That's exactly the message I want to send, and expressed so much better than I could possibly say it myself."

Other beautiful things are coming all the time—come in and "browse."

$61,000 Proposition!

== CAN YOU FILL THE BILL? ==

Help to Boost the City of Sierra Madre

We have interested a man of means who is a contractor, to locate here instead of going to Altadena.

Nearly twenty years of residence at sea level necessitates a change to higher altitude.

We have given him the reason why he ought to come to Sierra Madre and he has consented to follow our advice.

He will dispose of his real estate holdings in Los Angeles and Ocean Park partly for cash and exchange.

This is the Proposition:

We can offer his residence located in the neighborhood of the 2000 block on West 24th Street, Los Angeles, built by him at a cost of about $12,000 net. It contains 12 rooms, has hardwood floors all over the house and thoroughly modern in in every respect. Lot 60x130 ft. facing north. Price $20,000 subject to mortgage of $7,500.

Also income business corner temporarily improved with several small buildings adjoining the Speedway near Pier Ave., in Ocean Park. Lot about 60 feet facing 50 foot street by 100 feet facing Speedway. Houses built by him at a cost of $6,200

net. Income $150 per month or on the basis of 7 per cent per annum. This site available for apartment house in the near future. Other nearby corners taken up fast for apartment buildings now in progress of erection. Very near the large lot recently purchased by Mr. Busch, the millionaire brewer and owner of the Busch Gardens in Pasadena. Our client would build an apartment on this site himself, but his determination to hereafter reside in the foot-hills precludes him from going into the scheme. Price $25,000 subject to mortgage of $5,000.

Another income property situated on Third Street in Ocean Park. This is the best paved street running through into Santa Monica. This proposition is composed of two small apartment houses of 3 apartments in each house built by him costing $5,000 net each. Income $130 per month or on the basis of nearly 10 per cent per annum. These are on two lots of 50 feet each or 100x130 feet. Price $16,000 subject to mortgage of $2,500.

We can offer either one or two of these properties for exchange. The prices have been thoroughly hewed down to lowest bedrock net cash basis, on figures taken from data in building the houses by our client.

Anything that can be offered in exchange for them must prove up to same condition. No inflation.

Now who wants to exchange at these prices. The money from the sale of the others will be used in building operations in Sierra Madre by our client. What can you do to get this party into Sierra Madre.

We Want Acreage Only--Either Improved or Unimproved

Why Not?

In view of the salaries paid to professional ball players it is not surprising to read of an attempt to establish a course in baseball at an eastern university. There would be more pay in it than in most lines of endeavor for those who succeed. But your average fan will tell you that ball players like poets are born, not made.

Keep This Date

Don't forget to keep Wednesday, July 16, as an open date. Plan to take all the family and make the Board of Trade picnic at Redondo the biggest and best yet.

Good Memory, Anyway

Monrovia Messenger: A benevolent citizen of Monrovia eight years ago gave a man thirty-five dollars and with this money he went to Nevada and made a cool one hundred thousand in a year. The other day he remembered the generous Monrovia and wrote, asking him for a clerkship or any kind of a position. It is sweet to be remembered, for one generous act invites another.

Safe From Abuse

Inglewood News: Some cows at Carthage, Mo., ate several sticks of dynamite the other day. Nothing has happened yet, but wouldn't you hate to be milking one of those cows and have her slap you in the face with her tail? You would not dare to slam her with the milk stool, much less kick her.

Worth Trying Here

Monrovia has enjoyed an excellent course of lectures, entertainments and concerts the past winter. It was made possible by a number of citizens who put their names to a guarantee against loss, so the management felt justified in engaging attractive talent. The course was so well patronized that the treasury was left with a small balance instead of a deficit. Sierra Madre could do as well, I believe, and it should be tried.

DEATH AND THE HERO.

COME to the bridal chamber, Death!
Come to the mother's when she feels
For the first time her firstborn's breath:
Come when the blessed seals
That close the pestilence are broke
And crowded cities wait its stroke;
Come in consumption's ghastly form,
The earthquake's shock, the ocean storm,
Come when the heart beats high and warm
With banquet song and dance and wine.
And thou art terrible. The tear
The groan, the knell, the pall, the bier
And all we know or dream or fear
Of agony are thine.
But to the hero when his sword
Has won the battle for the free
Thy voice sounds like a prophet's word,
And in its hollow tones are heard
The thanks of millions yet to be —Fitz-Greene Halleck.

THE FORTUNATE ISLES.

YOU sail and you seek for the
Fortunate Isles,
The old Greek Isles of the yellow bird's song?
Then steer straight on through the watery miles,
Straight on, straight on and you can't go wrong.
Nay, not to the left; nay, not to the right.
But on, straight on, and the Isles are in sight.
The Fortunate Isles, where the yellow birds sing
And life lies girt with a golden ring

These Fortunate Isles they are not so far:
They lie within reach of the lowliest door
You can see them gleam by the twilight star:
You can hear them sing by the moon's white shore.
Nay, never look back! Those levelled ravestones
They were landing steps; they were steps unto thrones
Of glory for souls that have sailed before
And have set white feet on the fortunate shore

And what are the names of the
Fortunate Isles?
Why, Duty and Love and a large
Content.
Lo, these are the Isles of the watery miles
That God let down from the firmament!
Lo, Duty and Love and a true
man's Trust,
Your forehead to God, though your feet in the dust!
Lo, Duty and Love and a sweet baby's smiles,
And these, O friend, are the Fortunate Isles!
—Joaquin Miller (Died Feb. 17, 1913)

FREEDOM.

THEY are slaves who fear to speak
For the fallen and the weak;
They are slaves who will not choose
Hated, a-suffering and abuse.
Rather than in silence shrink
From the truth they needs must think
They are slaves who dare not be
In the right with two or three —James Russell Lowell.

"THE INQUIRY."

TELL me, ye winged winds
That round my pathway
Do ye not know the spot
Where mortals weep no
more,
Some lone and pleasant dell,
Some valley in the west,
Where, free from toil and pain,
The weary soul may rest?
The loud wind dwindled to a whisper low
And sighed for pity as it answered, "No."

Tell me, thou mighty deep,
Whose billows round me play,
Know'st thou some favored spot,
Some island far away,
Where weary man may find
The bliss for which he sighs,
Where sorrow never lives
And friendship never dies?
The loud waves, rolling in perpetual flow,
Stopped for awhile and sighed to answer,
"No."

And thou, serenest moon,
That with such lovely face
Dost look upon the earth
Asleep in night's embrace,
Tell me in all thy road
Hast thou not seen some spot
Where miserable men
Might find a happier lot?
Behind a cloud the moon withdrew in woe,
And a voice sweet, but sad, responded,
"No."

Tell me, my secret soul,
Oh, tell me, hope and faith,
Is there no resting place
From sorrow, sin and death?
Is there no happy spot
Where mortals may be blessed,
Where grief may find a balm
And weariness a rest?
Faith, hope and love, best boons to mortals given,
Waved their bright wings and whispered,
"Yes—in heaven!"
—Charles Mackay

WHY PHYLLIS SMILES.

Pray do not think her simple
She'll laugh at anything you say

THE RING OF WORDS.

BRIGHT is the ring of words
When the right man rings them,
Fair the fall of songs
When the singer sings them
Still they are caroled and said,
On wings they are carried
After the singer is dead
And the maker buried.

LOW as the singer lies
In the field of heather,
Songs of his fashion bring
The swains together
And when the west is red
With the sunset embers
The low lingers and sings
And the madd remembrance
—Robert Louis Stevenson.

THE LOVER'S LAST WISH.

SINCE all that I can ever do for thee
Is to do nothing, this my prayer must be—
That thou mayest never guess nor ever see
The all-endured this nothing does cost me
